

GUATEMALA CHILDREN'S PROJECT

Marisa Wade 3B

WHY IT MATTERS

Guatemala is one of the highest countries in poverty and their children are affected because they are very malnourished.

The Guatemala Children's project matters because they help feed the poor families and distributed clothes and hygiene kits to needy villages.

The orphanage Casa De Sion just opened its doors for homeless children and orphans
March 25, 2015

WHAT I DID TO HELP

The lifestyle in Guatemala is very different. They go to the market and buy what they need for that day, everyday. So what we did was we made 15 square foot gardening boxes and 15 mulching boxes. These were distributed out to different families in the village to help them grow their own crops so they can be self sufficient.

We also built soccer goals and more Gardening boxes at the orphanage so that the children could be fed more nutritious food.

HOW I BECAME AN A4 STUDENT

Aware- This trip opened my eyes and made me more aware of the poverty and in Guatemala and around the world. This is a way bigger problem than we think. And we need to educate ourselves more so that we can help them

Astute- I now know in depth of what these people actually need and how I can help them in the future. They need to be taught how to take care of themselves.

Articulate- I can fully describe the problems of poverty.

Active- I have gained a love for the people of Guatemala and i always will want to help them in any way that I can.

GUATEMALA CHILDREN'S PROJECT VIDEO

<https://youtu.be/HBEhtNX2vxo>